BACHELOR IN LAW

TOWARDS A PROMISING FUTURE...

A MESSAGE FROM DEAN

At the Faculty of Law and Political Science, our charter is simple: to provide affordable, accessible, high-quality legal education and knowledge about Political Science and International Relations for our Students. We at the Law and Political Science Faculty offer an innovative curriculum to achieve our mission. We also strive to ensure that legal knowledge is delivered by the best judges, practitioners, and leaders who educate passionately and listen generously.

We also provide knowledge and education about the Principles of International Relations, International Relations Theories, global issues, politics, and other important themes of the International Relations discipline. We believe that our graduates have the skills to excel globally for identifying and analyzing international issues and working with others to create meaningful solutions. The Faculty provides a comprehensive educational offering that is delivered by outstanding educators and comprises three core pillars: theory, which includes a choice of majors in a wide range of international relations fields; regional variation, which examines local characteristics around the world;

With all that being said, I can confidently state that the Law and Political Science Faculty fosters a productive environment that encourages studying, exploring, debating, innovating, advocating, and ultimately achieving the highest ideals of justice.

Therefore, I would like to invite you all to visit our website to learn more about our College, encouraging you to be part of our big family.

Zahidullah Saidi

Dean, Faculty of Law and Political Science

PROGRAM INTRODUCTION

The Department of Law was established in the faculty of law and political science in 1390. The mentioned department has played a significant role in providing legal education in the country. It provides insignificant areas of study, such as Criminal Law, Constitutional Law, International Law, Business Law, and Family Law. The syllabus is continuously being updated, and new subjects like Human Rights, Environmental Law, and Intellectual Property Law have been included in studies. Moreover, it is a big pride for this department that many of the judicial officers and administrative workforces in the country are graduates of the Department.

VISION STATEMENT

The Department of Law intends to train academics in the legal field by providing standard teaching and scientific research to be recognized as a standard program at the national and regional levels.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Department of Law trains academics in legal fields, considering the needs of society and presenting them to society.

LEGAL CLINIC

The department of Law has the well-equipped and a standard legal clinic for the practical learning of students. A legal clinic (also called law clinic) is a program organized through law faculty that allows students to receive legal experience and providing them with free legal services usually directed by clinical professors. The Legal Clinic of Al-Taqwa Institute of Higher Education provides legal assistance to those who are unable to afford a lawyer; who cannot write documents related to the case in a professional manner; who cannot speed up the activities of judicial and judicial bodies, to prevent the wastage of judges' time in cases, on the other hand, the legal clinic also causes an increase in the public's trust and confidence in the political system in the society.

In the legal clinic at Al-Taqwa Institute of Higher Education, students perform various tasks just as an attorney would do in the same job position, such as doing legal research, drafting briefs and other legal documents, and interviewing clients. Many jurisdictions even allow students to appear in court on behalf of clients, even in criminal defense. Participating in a legal clinic is a great way for students to gain hands-on experience before heading off into the job market
